“ I attended Ridgedale Church of Christ as a child, and had David's mother as a Sunday School teacher. She enthralled me with her wonderful lessons. Although I haven't seen David in years; I have pleasant memories of times together in youth activities at church. He had a wonderful personality and I knew he would be successful in whatever he chose to do.

“ We have fond memories of this gentle and kind man who had a strong voice. While he was capable in singing bass as one in the congregation, he could also sing the melody to lead singing, something so few can do. We so enjoyed his personality and song leading at Central and are honored to have known him. Howell and Janet Townes
