

Jeffery Justin Baker

January 23, 1974 - October 1, 2015

Jeffery Justin Baker, age 41, of Bowling Green, Ky. Survived by wife: Christina Pugh Baker; daughter: Alayna McKenzie Baker; parents: Diane and Rocky Baker; Sister: Danielle Sneed; Grandmother: Helen Boyd. Visitation at Phillips-Robinson Funeral Home, 2707 Gallatin Rd., visitation Monday from 4 until 8 and Tuesday from noon until time of service at 1 pm, conducted by Dr. Charles Worrell. Entombment Spring Hill.

Tribute Wall

JT

“ I'm very sorry for your loss. Death is an enemy to mankind that brings a lot of sorrow and heartache. But the Bible assures us that in God's Kingdom "death will be no more"- Rev 21:3,4. It will be a thing of the past! Now if you get a chance check out this website jw.org. It's very comforting. Very sorry for the loss again.

Julian Twumasi - October 18, 2015 at 08:40 PM

BR

“ Please help raise money for Jeff's widow and daughter:
<https://www.gofundme.com/2w5xe...>

Brian - October 12, 2015 at 05:14 AM

GB

“ Jeff was a very special individual, he inspired me on many levels. Beside the fact that he was extremely intelligent, he had a great sense of humor. I am better because I got to know and work with Jeff. Gerry Barber

Gerry Barber - October 10, 2015 at 12:17 AM

CC

“ After working with Jeff at Asurion then Deloitte, there was no denying the incredible personality that was Jeff Baker. I shall never forget him telling about how he delighted in confusing the occasional retail cashier by throwing in an intermittent beep from his wheelchair while they scanned the items he purchased. It was easy to imagine the scene as he demonstrated the beep while I stood there; then imagine the expression on the cashier's face as they try to understand how an item registered as purchased with the telltale beep before it was even scanned. Of course he would unveil his trickery soon enough so as not to suspend the cashier in a befuddled state for too long and allow for the imminent release of laughter which no doubt made the cashier's day. Too funny! And there was no limit to the number of entertaining stories such as this one he would share, pairing each story with timed facial expressions that would make a standup comedian proud. And I never met a more diligent hard worker than Jeff; sometimes to a fault. Sometimes he would push himself until he put his already fragile health at jeopardy. It was as though he intended to wring every drop of life out of every second and not let go. He was a positive force functioning against the odds with more life than most. Jeff was one of those rare lives who inspired many and he will be missed by those who knew him! -Chick Culton

Chick Culton - October 06, 2015 at 09:20 PM

EG

“ Jeff was such a joy to work with. His humor and intelligence combined to make every work day productive and fun. He taught me so much about approaching challenges with a can do attitude. He is truly missed.

Edith Garwood - October 06, 2015 at 07:37 AM

KM

“ I am so grateful that I got to know Jeff and got to work with him for so many years at Deloitte. He was smart and supportive with a gift for cutting to the chase and making everyone laugh at the same time. I loved talking with him about Alayna. Nothing made him happier. He is missed!

Kathy McDonald - October 06, 2015 at 03:55 AM

JF

“ I was under Jeff at both T-Mobile and Asurion and what a guy! He loved people, especially making them laugh. He was always cracking jokes, making a face to get someone to smile, or zipping through the isles to make paper fly off the desks because he simply loved to laugh and loved life. I have some fantastic memories of Jeff during those several years and the outings after work we would share watching our friends in Safetysuit play at 12th and Porter.

Jeff was brilliant, witty, caring, goofy, and just about every trait someone would have for people to gravitate towards. Jeff was a leader and I have zero doubts he was 100 % effective at demonstrating his ability to be a leader with every job, above and beyond. More than his appreciation for his work, he loved his family and always spoke of his wife and daughter. A very proud husband and father who always had an update on his daughters growth or the privilege it was to be a father.

We are all going to miss Jeff and he was one of the few people there for me at my friend/supervisors passing in 2006. I celebrate his life in the best way I know how - by laughing at all the ridiculous (in a good way) things he said or did during our several years together to insight life in people. Even if it was at his own expense, Jeff wanted people to laugh and love life and I did just that.

My heart goes out to Christy and Alayna and myself and family will be praying for the Holy Spirit to provide you peace and comfort during this time. I am left with an abundance of hilarious memories that still ring in my head some 10 years later and grateful that God had Jeff in my life for the time we had together.

Jonathan Ferreri - October 06, 2015 at 02:36 AM

JS

“ Having the privilege to work with Jeff Baker was one of the most significant highlights of my career at Deloitte. Rarely do you meet someone who has the combination of intelligence, creativity, and wit that Jeff displayed every day. When we interviewed Jeff, his closing question was, "So when do I start?" Our director's response was "Six months ago." Jeff took that to heart, and demonstrated an amazing ability to overcome obstacles that had driven many projects to a halt. The only thing that Jeff loved more than work was his family. It has been a great joy in my life to know Jeff, Christy, and Alayna.

Jeff J Shearer - October 05, 2015 at 11:49 PM