“ To the family and friends of Kelly Jo; I am very sorry for your loss. Kelly Jo obviously suffered tremendously during her short life. RSD/CRPS is unbearable at times. I did not know her but one can glean a lot of information about personality from a FB page. I conclude she was one of God's angels on earth. She has earned her crown of Glory and now resides painless in HIS heavenly world. I leave you all with this prayer penned by someone unknown but touched by HIS hand.

"As you go through this day, know that I am gently protecting you.

I am as near to you as your breath, as close to you as your heartbeat.

I can see the fragile state of your emotions.

I know how close to the surface your tender feelings are.

I am aware that the wick of your spirit's inner light is flickering in the winds of your dilemma.

But you are my child, and I am on your side today.

I will hold you in my love until you are strong again.

Do not be troubled or afraid.

Do not strive in your own strength, but lean into my love.

Be strengthened by my spirit.

Find comfort in my mercy.

Your shield and defender,

God”

“ Words are inadequate. While I never met Kelly, we sometimes corresponded via Facebook. Kelly was a very, very special woman. I will never forget her. May she be at peace and running with Dusty.
In Kelly's memory, I made a donation to Coastal Sheltie Rescue, Virginia Beach, Virginia.

“ Starr, you have been in my prayers since I heard of your loss of Kelly Jo. My procrastination has kept me from contacting you since I returned to TN. When you are able, I would love to take you to lunch to catch up on your life! Until then, I will keep you in my prayers. With great memories, Sylvia Sykes

“ Kelly was so full of joy despite her illness. I loved to hear her laugh. She brought smiles to my heart each time I saw her. She had such a way about making you feel special. There's too much to share about her precious spirit to write. I will miss you sweet Kelly but I know I will see you and my sweet Alesia again!! Debbie

“The world breaks everyone and afterward many are strong at the broken places.”
~Ernest Hemingway

Kelly was so strong and waged such a valiant fight against her illness. It's hard to understand why that fight ended so abruptly, but I have faith that she truly is in a better place, free of pain. Please take comfort in the knowledge that you never failed Kelly, constantly advocating for her and providing everything humanly possible to comfort and care for her during her darkest times. Her sweet heart resulted from your exceptional parenting. Feel proud of that even in the midst of your overwhelming grief.

We love you,
Donna and Nancy

“ Starr, I cannot begin to tell you how astonished and heart broken I was to hear about Kelly! I'm selfish I do not want her to be gone! However I know she gained her wings and will never be in pain again!! Kelly was possibly the sweetest, kindest person I've ever known!! She was always so sweet to me!! Please know that you are in my thoughts and prayers!! I would like to tell you that time makes it better but it does not. But God's Grace makes it bearable!! Praying for you!! Lynn Anderson
