“ Oh, Aunt Pearl, there are not words to express my feelings of loss. I'm so very sorry that I was not able to be there, but please know that I love you and will miss knowing that your comforting arms and words of wisdom are gone. I will also miss your stories and your laugh and your orneriness. Just thinking about you will always bring a smile to my face. Loving and missing you, Sherri

“ Couldn't say enough words to cover one of the kindest sweetest ladies I have ever known. She had a way to make everyone feel special. She always listened and made me feel welcome. A few minutes and a cup of coffee with Pearl always made your problems seem a lot less important and a little more bearable. Everyone who knew her was blessed with a wonderful friend and a strong beautiful woman who will always be remembered. She was raised country and poor and lived with pride in her hard work and her loving children. She is greatly missed.

“ Much love

“ Pearl (My other mom) will always be a big part of me. She had a heart of gold and it showed. When she gave advised she'd look you straight in the eye to make sure that message got across. When she made something there was always an open spot to sit down and have a delicious, home cooked meal. Always! You could walk in, have a cup of coffee, sit down and she would make herself available to listen to you. She made the time to be there for everyone. That was one thing I definitely learned from her was to be there for the ones you care and love. She was a great influence on me and I'm sure for those who knew her well.

She was the sweetest person I've ever met, and I will miss her so very much. I can see her making a pot of green beans and ham for her next guest right now. I love you mom.

“ I can't believe she is gone. I may not have been blood but I always considered her my Granny too. She done so much for Stephanie and I when we were younger and roommates. We couldn't wait to hear what granny was cooking for dinner so we could hurry to her house and eat with her. I love you "Granny" always and forever. Rest easy sweet angel, give Pa and Khris big hugs and kisses from us all until we meet again. Love to all the family and prayers for understanding and comfort.
