“ Not many will ever know what a truly great woman Jo McFadden was. She was a straight-shooter who didn't take any guff. As a single mother, she worked hard to provide for her daughter, Ginger. After she met and married Jack, she was a major force in their business ventures, including the radio station they acquired in Manteca, California, and the booking agency, McFadden & Associates, they built from the ground up in Nashville. I'm sure she is happy to be reunited with her beloved Jack again, but I will miss her and think of her often. I loved that woman and the strength she had. Godspeed, Jo.

“ So glad I got to know your mother. We were second cousins on the Cox Family tree, I believe. Our grandfathers were brothers. You are in my thoughts and prayers at this time of loss.

“ My memories of Aunt Jo are mostly from my childhood. To me she was beautiful, adventurous, and fun-loving. Always cheerful and carried a special sparkle in her eye that made her seem magical to me.

“ Intelligent, beautiful, kind, motherly, wise. That’s how I remember Jo. Ginger and I are friends who traveled together quite a bit in the early 90’s; we met up with her folks several times for dinner over the years. They always made me feel like I had an extra set of parents; always concerned and full of sage advice. And funny, too! I even wrote about the two of them in my journal occasionally : (1992): “Ginger, Jo, Jack and I went to see Billy Ray perform at Fan Fair tonight. We all had dinner after and I was so touched by the McFaddens, I just love them. My Nashville folks. Such sweet people.” Indeed.

May Jo find everlasting comfort, now with her beloved Jack. Sending prayers of peace to her family. Love, Barbara

“ There are way to many memories of Aunt Jo to share in one post. I could go on and on. I loved and admired her so much. I learned something new every time I was around her. She and Uncle Jack made every visit with them an adventure. She loved sharing all of my crazy/funny childhood stories with all my friends. Although, I had heard them over and over I would give anything to hear them ONE more time. I love you Aunt Jo ! I will forever be your Kendipoo
