“ To the Winn Family, A star is born, When you go out tonight and look up into the heavens, that bright light that you see shining down on you is your loved one that is with the angels now. She has not left you all alone. She has left many memories of your own. In your sorrow today many tears will fall, if asked today she wouldn,t come back all all. She will be there to greet you when your journey ends, like the loved ones that went before her greeted her, so grieve for your loved one in your own way, don't ask her to come home because she is with God today. Look up, A star is born. Barbara, Gene, and whole family will miss her very much.
