“ If Douglas Hall was the family's heart, Bess Hall was surely the body of strength. She was a devoted mother, wife and grandmother. She would walk up two flights of steps to help out in her daughter's classroom. She would listen to the children read and review math facts with complete patience. I taught with Debbie (her daughter) forever. When my mother couldn't come when I received an award, Bess came. We had a close group of friends that traveled around Tennessee to eat, daughters and their moms. All of us that were lucky enough know Bess are better for it. That's a pretty good legacy to leave behind.
