

Beverly Prince Bounds

June 6, 1943 - December 2, 2024

We are here to celebrate the life of Beverly Bounds, who was born June 6, 1943 in Nashville, TN. She was Graced by God and sent to Heaven December 2, 2024. She was a beloved mother, grandmother, and friend to all. Beverly's life was a testament to hard work, love, and her constant faith in God. As we reflect on her journey we are reminded of the many roles she played and the countless lives she touched.

Beverly was a graduate of East High School where she laid the foundation for her future. She was a gifted musician on the piano with a large voice for singing. Music was not just an art to Beverly, it was a way to connect, to inspire and uplift those around her.

Beverly's greatest legacy is found in her role as a mother. Her love was fierce, unwavering, and all encompassing. She raised them with compassion, wisdom, and strength. In addition to her children, Beverly's love extended to all her family as well as the many friends she encountered during her life. Her kindness, humor, and generosity will be remembered by all who had the privilege of knowing her. Her faith in God was unwavering.

Today we mourn her passing, but we also celebrate her life. Beverly, you will be dearly missed. Your spirit, love, and strength will guide us in the days to come. Rest in peace, know you are loved, and you have left this world in a better place than you found it. May God bless us all.

Beverly is survived by her daughters, Dawn Metcalf and Kimberly Bounds; son, Burton McDuffee; grandchildren, Mak Johnson, Peyton Randall, and Jenifer Still; great-grandchildren, Madison, Kaylie, Piper, and Kale; brother, Larry Prince (Kathy); nieces and nephews, Dwayne, Allison, and Leslie.
