“ Charles was a good man. I wished i could have spent more time with him. I had several visits with him talking about the old Murff family. He would always smile when talking about his great granddaughters. I know he will be missed.

“ He was a great man that lived a full life. Born in 1923, he grew up in the Depression with nothing but can't “remember a hungry day” and remembers it as “good times.” He became a man in WW II and Korea.

Like all the rest of his generation, he went without complaint.

He loved fishing, hunting, his garden, and most of all his great-grand daughters.

He was my grandfather...and I am utterly heartbroken.
