“ Ray was one of my favorite people. He had a way of making you feel special and loved. He was always fun to be around, and would bend over backwards to help people. There are so many great memories from Inglewood that has Ray right in the middle of them. Like I remember this time he and my dad did this hilarious skit down in the fellowship hall, how he worked with us as teens, the many yard sales, his kind words to me on my wedding day and so many others. He will always have a special place in my heart and will be missed.

“ A memory? I have so many good memories of him. We played sports together, shared family together, shared food together, and shared God together.
