“ When Clint's paternal grandparents were alive we would always gather and the adults participated in a "Dirty Santa" present exchange at Christmas. one year stands out in my mind since I needed a new bathroom scale. You need to understand this was a long process. All the adults participated. Everyone could tell I was after the scale. After the dust settled, I missed getting the scale. In his gentle way, Clint handled it to me. I refused; but, he insisted. That is the perfect example of his thoughtfulness and generosity. He was a gentle soul with a generous heart.

There was always laughter when he was around with that huge personality and great sense of humor.

I loved seeing Clint and Stephanie catching up since their last visit. He loved family and getting together with them. We miss you Clint! We love you always,
