Farewell my friend, I will miss your debates on life. I have been your friend first, your manager, your secretary thru your life journey. I have had the pleasure of seeing you on top of your car business game where I first met you, your slight detour during your (2) health issues and your rise to find your compassion selling roses downtown. I will always remember how you have shared the love for your son, your family and especially your stories about the your proudest memories of being a grandparent. Thanks to your friends who supported you financially during your health issues they will never know how much you appreciated and adored them.

Rest in peace all is well,

“David was an amazing soul that will be greatly missed. David was our go to guy for taking care of our mowing, parking lot cleaning, and security sometimes here at Dreisbach Wholesale Florist. If he was here after we had closed and he saw something that was strange or thought I should know about, he would call and report it to me. David did all this in exchange for roses. His favorite was Red Freedoms and he would always say "now Jeff, I know you have these other colors, but those Freedom roses are better sellers for me", so I would do my best to get him some for the week.

The entire staff here at Dreisbach Wholesale Florist will miss his bigger than life personality and smile.
