“ Dear Fay, The photo of your mom is so beautiful; just as she was always to me, a beautiful lady. I've not seen her in years, but I prefer to think of her many years ago when she and my mom were such close friends, and so were you and I. We would run up and down behind the little shop on Gallatin Road. Things were so safe back then, and our mothers were so happy for us to be having such fun. If there is such thing as the good old days, those definitely were. I lost my mom 23 years ago, and that was way too early. I'm so very thankful you had yours till this ripe old age. I'm sure she was beautiful, gracious and thinking right on the beat till her last breath. God love her heart and rest her soul. I love you Sister. You are still so precious to me. Barbara
