

Holley S. King Morris

October 31, 1973 - October 29, 2025

Holley S. King Morris, Age 51, of Nashville, TN, passed away on October 29, 2025.

Holley was a red-headed Irish beauty who grew up in East Nashville . She graduated from Stratford High School and Volunteer State Community College. Holley was a devoted and beloved daughter , mother and grandmother . She cherished being a homemaker and taking care of family . She was good-hearted and hilarious .

Holley was breathtakingly honest , spectacularly funny and vivacious . Holley will be missed for many reasons , but her witty comments and loud laughter are irreplaceable .

Holley had a strong faith , and she clung to Jesus . She cherished prayer and scripture . The sermons and Bible Studies led by Pastor Charles Stanley were essential components of her day . Holley deeply appreciated all the priests from Cathedral and St Joseph who visited her during her hospitalizations . Holley looked forward to being reunited with her sister Heather and to living in the presence of Jesus in heaven . We , her brokenhearted family , did not expect her to reach that goal so soon . Oh , how we will miss her !

Survived by her Son, Michael W. Morris III (Chelsea); Mother Beth (Royce)

Collins; Father, late, Richard King; Brother, Adam Johnson; Sister, late, Heather King; Aunts, Laura (David) Tannen, Paula (Edward) Knish, Kelly (Michael) Lally, and Kimberly (Buddy) Farrah; Uncle, Pat (Cathy) Cunningham; Nieces, Skylar Lassetter and Rebecca Collins; Nephews, Bailey Johnson, Dakota Johnson, Gavin Johnson, and Carter Johnson; Grandchildren, Michael W. “ One of Holley’s endearing qualities that one could not help but notice, her generosity. Whether the kids in her apartment complex that knew there was a treat waiting for them when they tapped on her door with a big smile on their faces or a special gift for a family member, special occasion or not. You could see she was one of those souls who would REALLY rather give than receive. Holley will be missed by all.

“ Holley was my great niece. Just a year younger than my daughter. Too young to be gone to Heaven, just like her sister Heather. I remember watching Holley and Heather play with their Holley and Heather dolls, having fun at Opryland, and playing at my dear sister’s home. She will be missed! I can’t imagine the pain of Beth, Adam, and Michael.

I’m sure Mom, Holley and Heather are having a great time in Paradise, but we’re sure missing them here ❤️.

“Holley was a precious treasure ! She was such a lovable , beautiful gal ! With her hazel eyes , warm smile and glorious red hair , she was strikingly beautiful . Her breathtaking honesty and loud , hilarious comments would fill a room with laughter . She brought us all such joy as we watched her grow up and become the faithful , prayerful woman that God called her to become . When Holley was a child , I spent a lot of time going shopping and going to the pool with them , delighting in the loveliness of those beautiful sisters . And when Adam was born , we had so much fun playing at Mom and Dad’s.

I was Holley’s Confirmation sponsor , and I remember our day together at church with gratitude . The last few years of her life , Holley and I became prayer partners over the phone . She clung to Jesus , and her faith in Him did not waver . I will never forget the final family gathering we all had at Kelly’s in May . What a joyful day ! I remember Holley chatting and laughing with her Mom Beth as well as all the Cunningham clan . My last glimpse of Holley was as she was limping , in terrible pain , out to the car . Holley was clinging to her brother Adam . Adam was using his strong shoulders and arms to assist Holley , just like Simon helping Jesus carry his cross . Holley was waving back at the family . We had no idea she was waving goodbye for the final time . We will gather in heaven , where Holley and Heather will be showing us all how to dance again ! ☐ 🙏
