“ Jackie was one of the dearest and kindest souls I've ever met. I had the pleasure of getting to know he and his wife Helen after I bought their Airstream. This was more than a business transaction but the start of a friendship. I had the privilege of spending several hours hearing about his time working at Genesco and also his time serving our country. He was a man of many talents and great stories. I count it a true privilege to be able to call him my friend
