“ James a I served in the Army together, we had been friends for fifty years.
We shared the same birthdays. Although I live in California we keep in touch.
I will miss you James.

“ Cookie and me shared a lot. We were happy hour buddies at the Sheraton. When he went to Germany, I stayed in his house and took care of the rental property he had. He liked to sail and we spent time on Percy Priest with friends. I helped him with curing hams in his basement. We hung out at the Holiday Inn on the Westside listening to Peter and the Wolf. He was a character to say the least but a good friend. We also had many weekends at the cabin at Center Hill. Got in trouble there too. Rest in Peace old friend.
