“ I married into the family. I had known Uncle Jimmy since I have been 16. He was my favorite Uncle on my Husband's side. He was the biggest cut up. He was always making someone laugh. Loved when him and Aunt Peggy would come up to Ohio, they would come to Mike and I's house at least 1 night for dinner..I would make them home cooked beans, cornbread, fried potaoes and sausage and chicken and dumplings. Let me tell ya though, you never wanted to ask Uncle Jimmy and Aunt Peggy for directions to get to somewhere in Nashville when we went to visit, they would start to argue. Uncle Jimmy would tell Aunt Peggy they should put your picture on my drivers license. He was soooo funny. Going to miss that ornery man.

I remember being in Nashville for work the day of the 9/11 attacks and with all of the airports shut down and no rental cars available, I was stranded. I reached out to Uncle Jimmy and him and I spent the next 4 days or so hopping from pool hall to pool hall spending the day shooting pool. Uncle Jimmy was such a pleasure to be around and would always have you laughing. I haven't got to see him much in the past 20 years or so, but he will always bring a smile to my face when brought up in conversation. You will be missed Uncle Jimmy. Rest well.
