“ The flow of love and support I witnessed tonight is a true testament of what an impact they had on this world together. Ronnie and Jennifer are truly blessed to have loved and been loved by so many. While my heart aches for the loss we all feel, it pails in comparison to what the family is going through. She was bigger than life itself and taken so suddenly. I know they are all grateful for the patience and kind words. Please keep the family and friends in your prayers. Especially Ronnie. He was her world, and vice versa. I will love you forever my dear friend.
