“ Today I'm feeling guilty. My Uncle Joe, Big Joe, is being laid to rest. I am not there, as I should be, to be with my Aunt Mabel and Little Joe on this very meaningful day of their lives. I am in Denver, CO at an Air Force training symposium. I will soon forget the training but I will never forget my Uncle Joe. I remember as a boy how he would emit this aura of stateliness when he walked into a room. He was so impressive to me. He looked like a movie star. I was proud to call him my uncle. So long Uncle Joe, I hope your journey is a peaceful and comforting one. The next time dad and I are on the lake, I will look for your reflection in the water.

Aunt Mabel,

I hope you know how much I love you. I am so sorry that I will not be there to give you a big hug and kiss and to stand with you and hold your hand. I will see you very soon.

“ Joe will always be remembered as a man of exemplary character. Mabel and family, I mourn your loss with you and pray for God to give you extra strength and comfort during this time. Although I haven't seen you in years, I still think of you and share the love Mama had for her sister and all of her family.
