“ Faye is the eldest sister of my Mother, Carol Kaye. With the passing of their parents, Faye became the senior of the three sisters and was a constant in my family through my whole life. Faye was a force of nature, sometimes moving forward solely through a strength of will. She was gracious and giving, mischievous and good natured. She has gone to Glory with those loved ones who have left before her; her parents, her little sister Linda and her love Kenny. She will be sorely missed, but we take comfort knowing that she is smiling down upon us all.
