“ I don't know how much of Larry's family will see this, but I only learned of Larry's death recently. It saddens me to hear of this. I am sorry for your loss; 64 is young this day and time when medicine has advanced to help so many live long, fruitful lives.

He had told me he was pursuing a career in medicine and was hoping to complete his education soon. Of course this was in the 80's so I am seeing by the obituary posted that he finished and was serving patients.

I hope you have found comfort from the One who provides eternal life for those who love and trust Him. May God bless each of you.
