

Marie "Meg" Parham

July 23, 1925 - August 14, 2013

PARHAM, Marie "Meg" G., 88, of Nashville, TN, passed away peacefully August 14, 2013. Meg was born in High Point, NC on July 23, 1925. She was raised in Toledo, OH. Meg graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and received a bachelor's degree in education. Meg was an active member of her community and displayed a passion for education. She was involved in the Junior League, an avid volunteer, and a lifetime member of the board of directors for Nashville's Adventure Science Center (formerly the Children's Museum). Meg helped organize the Spring Bazaar and Doll Weekend for the museum to help fund multiple programs and exhibits. She was a founding member of the museum's guild. It is through her contributions that she hoped to endear others with the quest for knowledge. She was preceded in death by parents Mr. & Mrs. John Frederick Helm Grubb and husband Parke L. Parham. Meg is survived by sister Martha G. Johnson; daughter Martha P. Jones; son Parke L. Parham Jr.; and granddaughter Christine M. Hudgins. The visitation will be held on Saturday afternoon (3pm to 6pm) in the Engineering Center at the Adventure Science Center. In lieu of flowers, the family is requesting that donations be made out to the Adventure Science Center and the Shriner's Hospital for Crippled and Burned Children.
