“ So sorry to here this...George came to my home today to notify me of Mary Elizabeth. I grew up beside Guy & Elizabeth's house, currently the one Mary is renting. I and my entire family always enjoyed Mary Elizabeth coming over to check on the property as she would always walk next door to say hi to us. Your family is definitely in my prayers and thoughts. I had no idea Mary had past until after the service when George came to my home today. God Bless you ALL! Mary Elizabeth was truly an Angel and enjoyed her friendship more than anyone can imagine.

“ Aunt Tib (as we so lovingly called her), and I shared a birthday. That was a special connection. We exchanged Christmas cards most of my adult life. Aunt Tib was the woman you wanted to be like : energetic, classy and just down right beautiful, dedicated to her causes (especially her church and her priests), loving of her family, loyalty to family and friends. It seemed she never aged. She was diligent to visit the sick and sit with them on a regular basis. She was so wonderful to come and sit with my mother, Jewell Casey, so many, many times. They laughed and did exercises together (my Mother would say that she looked like a teenager as she did the exercises (Aunt Tib was in her late '80's). She would call my dad (her brother), Joe Casey, every night except the night before she died. They truly loved each other, and they shared many qualities: energetic, passionate, loyal, spiritual, and people that make things happen which touch other peoples lives in a positive way. She also was very concerned and prayed and made sure her church prayed for my daughter all of the time she has been sick with RSD. Autn Tib also diligently sent her regular cards for many years. They meant so much to Kelly. They helped her know their were people on the outside of her four walls where she was bed bound who cared for her and thought about her. I will miss you Aunt Tib because I loved you so much, and because you were such a role model for me. I am okay with your passing though because I know where you are--in heaven with Uncle Jack, Mammy Perk and your other loved ones.
