“ My name is Joe Hamilton and I went to Stratford High School with Mike Cunningham we both took machine shop classes for half a day at Maplewood High trade school our junior and senior years. Mike learned the trade real fast (I was a little bit jealous) and graduated top of our class. Mike wanted to be a Tool and Die machinist because it was the most difficult to do and it paid the most money. In Nashville he really excelled in the Tool and Die business and soon decided to become an Aircraft Tool and Die Machinist (the most difficult of all) so he moved to California to go to work for Boeing and Lockheed. Soon Mike opened his machine shop making specialized parts for the Air Craft Industry and he really was successful. When Mike decided to move back to Tennessee he was more than a millionaire. He opened a new shop in Hendersonville that made " one of a kind " parts for custom motorcycles and classic cars and if you were involved with either or both of those industries you knew Mike Cunningham because his parts were the best that money could buy. So if there's an " Advanced Tool and Die Shop " in heaven I can guarantee that all the angels will want Mike to make their HALOS - Why ? Because they'll be absolutely perfect of course.
