“ Yes he was a Great Step Father, as far as teenagers, we were normal but yet teenagers. :) Brave man to tackle all us as he loved my mother so much, random flowers brought to her, holding hands and kisses and hugs all the time! He loved us and his grand children as his own. Dillon called him at a early age to beat up a bully at school, as Dillon looked at him as a strong man. Endless wrestling shows and even down town adventures to go watch wrestling, monster truck shows and rodeos and trips to the zoo. Dillon misses his Poppy also so much! Great Family meals as he taught me alot about cooking, they were a team as far as Mom and him in the kitchen. He was a strong man with such a gentle heart for animals, as in later years he loved to feed his ducks and birds. With his strong hands he held the babies so gentle and always had one of them sleeping on his chest. He always called me his baby girl and feel he is especially watching over our mother as she feels his presence daily. We will all meet again in heaven, we miss you and Love you, Love Your Baby Girl, Lisa

“ He was my stepfather and later in life he became my friend. I'll miss him greatly. He mellowed with age, but then maybe we both did. I'll miss the political discussions, I'll miss his burritos, his silly grins... on and on. But most of all I'll truly miss just "him". Rest in peace Pappa Ray. You were a good man. Cya on the other side.
