“ You are already missed my friend. Don't know what I'm going to do now if my car acts funny or like the typical woman. I don't know what be going on with this sound or that sound. This is just still so unreal and I truly hope that you know that I had nothing but love for you my friend...I will always miss our conversations about whatever was going on in the news are just the times when we just wanted to hang out. Rest in peace Rodney
