“ I first met the Washburn family about 52 years ago when I move to the neighborhood and became friends with Louis. Over the years, Mrs. Washburn took care of "the boys" as she called us. We all lived close by and were in their house a lot over the years. Always treated us like we were adults (most of the times) and Randy Warf owes her big time for her help with his driving citations. Louis and I were lucky in that we both had two great parents. She will be missed.
