

Timothy Owen Menowsky

February 24, 1955 - April 15, 2017

MENOWSKY, Timothy Owen, Age 62 of Nashville. Born Feb. 24, 1955 and passed away April 15, 2017.

As the sixth of seven children in a military family that moved often, Tim very early mastered the art of making friends. Those skills came in handy at American University, Washington, D.C., where he graduated magna cum laude and developed a love of radio at WAMU-AM & FM.

In 1979, Tim joined the National Association of Broadcasters as a New Orleans-based regional manager, winning multiple sales awards and interacting with hundreds of radio and television station owners and managers.

That experience led to radio station ownership in Pennsylvania and Kansas in the early 1980's, followed by corporate/consulting work at Greenwood Performance Systems, Clear Channel University, and Cumulus Broadcasting. When Clear Channel bought struggling Top 40 station WRBQ/Tampa in 1993, they installed Tim as General Manager to oversee its successful transition to a Country format.

He later segued to Communications Equity Associates, brokering the sale of domestic and international radio, television, and cable properties, and Media

Mergers & Acquisitions, providing expert counsel to financial organizations. Over the years, he was active with the National Association of Media Brokers; the Radio Advertising Bureau; the John Bayliss Scholarship Foundation; and the agenda committee of the Country Radio Seminar. More recently, he consulted sales departments at radio and television stations throughout the U.S.

Tim's lifelong passion was meeting new people and helping them reach their personal and professional goals. As an "encourager", he urged everyone to see things in a positive light. He loved big steaks on the grill, talking sports and politics, and telling jokes to whoever would listen.

He is survived by his daughter Katie Menowsky of Seattle, Washington, his son Jeffrey Menowsky of Austin, Texas, and an untold number of broadcasters whose careers he influenced. Funeral arrangements are being handled by the family, with plans for a memorial service to be announced at a later date.
