“ My deepest condolences. Vanessa was very kind and helpful when I joined MTSU and I have missed seeing her across the hall. It was always a pleasure to chat with her both about work and current events (or even little things like her robot watch!). She was enthusiastic when discussing her research and I was grateful for her willingness to help me with various reports and forms, for her insight into our department, and her comments on a survey about teaching pedagogy. As I acknowledged her help a few weeks ago for this work, I planned to reach out once the latest article was published and regret that I waited. Her legacy will continue in not only her publications, but in the people she inspired.

“ It was such an honor to get to work with Vanessa through the United Nations Association. She brought so much life and energy into everything she did with and for the Nashville Cordell Hull Chapter, and her willingness to step up and do whatever was needed was a great inspiration. I'm very sad that her time as Chapter President, and especially her time here on earth, was cut short, but I'm very thankful to have had the opportunity to know and work with her!

“ When Vanessa came to the Department of Health we bonded over a common love for data and past academic careers. When I invited her to join Valerie and me for an early morning run, I had no idea that we would also become close friends, running buddies, supporters and confidantes. Several times a week, weather permitting, we would get up before dawn and meet at a trailhead or the boulevard and run and talk and share and support one another. When one of us was facing health or other issues, we'd walk - because it was only partly about the running, but wholly about the friendship. Vanessa inspired me to be a better person and she challenged me every day. I learned from her about international relations - and about poise and grace under pressure. We met and ran through ups and downs, treatments, life changes and choices, great weather and not so great weather. I am a better person because of her. When Vanessa lectured in my course on public health informatics, the students were fascinated - and many of them chose to write their final papers based on her lecture. They had no idea what she was facing at the time. And that was Vanessa - she affected people around her without them even realizing it. I am so heartbroken that we have all lost this incredible light in the world, and I will miss my friend so very much. My hope is that I can channel just a fraction of the good that she was in the world and that I can aspire to be that kind of friend - the kind who laces up at 5 am and says "let's go!" - no matter how hard the winds are blowing.

Josh - you know you have my love and my support for every moment of this journey you are facing. We'll lace up together and breathe, one step at a time.

“Dr. Lefler was an incredible role model. She was my mentor and advisor for several years. Not only was she a wonderful person to be around, but she was a true scholar and professional. She was passionate and curious, genuinely concerned about student success, and dedicated to her profession. One memory that has stuck with me for years was sitting with Dr. Lefler for a few hours in her office at MTSU. She guided me through my project, then moved on to my goals and talking about her experiences as a young woman in academia. Then she showed me how to set up her dual monitors and some games she liked to play — she truly was a lover of stats and analytical in every regard, but also fun and very clever. She often devised workshops and games to help encourage students to actively understand complicated IR material, which is just one of many examples of how caring of an instructor she truly was.

I was absolutely inspired by her and remain today wholly grateful that she took the time to teach me and talk with me whenever she could. My thoughts are with her family, husband, friends and colleagues. I know that many of her former students are absolutely so, so grateful for the time we were able to know her.

“My deepest condolences to Josh and Vanessa's family. She was an excellent scholar and educator - and I have no doubt that she has become a great civil servant after she left MTSU. Vanessa's former students and our faculty will always remember her!

“ Although I worked with Vanessa for a short time, she left an impact on me. I remember teasing her about the runs she would do each morning before coming to work. I asked her to do a mile for me. Then I would bring her homemade cookies! Vanessa was always approachable and very easy to talk to. We talked about work, family, and life in general. She would often talk about her husband, Josh, and his work.

When Vanessa confided in us about her surgery, we all prayed for her. When she came back to work, we encouraged her about the new hair style. We told Vanessa that she could really rock that! There was no need to cover it up. However, she was glad when it grew back. I will miss Vanessa’s presence, her smile, laughter, and warm friendly spirit. I am thankful to have known, met, and worked with her.

To the family – “The Lord bless you and keep you; the Lord make His face shine upon you and be gracious to you; the Lord lift up His countenance upon you and give you peace.” Numbers 6:24 - 26

“ Vanessa was always a very happy person but very professional, thoughtful, intelligent, knowledgeable , with many skills. She was a very good listener and always treated each team member fairly and with respect. She always took time to explain things and listened to what you thought and made you feel comfortable when you suggested something or had a comment about a situation. Your opinion always mattered to her. She always appreciated the work we did. I can remember how she made me feel like I belonged and what I did was appreciated. I am a detailed person and would talk to her about if I was presenting to much information and she said no she was the same way and she appreciated it. Vanessa always had ways of making you feel at ease and cared for and appreciated.

Vanessa was a very thoughtful and understanding person. She comforted me when I lost my mom 3 years ago and needed some extra time off from work. It wasn't a problem. Years back I had talked to her about losing my husband and she listened and was very compelling and concerned about my feelings.

Thanks for sharing her with us at the Tennessee Department of Health. It was a great opportunity to have worked with her On our team as our Vital Records Statistical director. She will be missed.

To the family and friends of Vanessa, Josh you have my deepest sympathy and praying that God give you peace and comfort you through this difficult time. May you always cherish the memories you shared.

“ Vanessa was a wonderful daughter. She was a blessing when her Dad and I brought her home. Her 2 older brothers, wanted a little sister. She was so kind hearted, energetic, loved reading and wanting to know the "whys". Later in life we were still a mother/daughter team. We supported each other, when he Dad passed away suddenly. She became my sounding board, best friend, clothing style guide and cooking partner. I will miss her terribly, but will always have her in my heart.

My Beautiful Daughter, you have fought a hard battle with cancer, with Josh always at your side. You are now freed from your pain. I LOVE YOU ALWAYS AND WILL MISS YOU.

“Dr. Vanessa Lefler was a huge impact on my college years. Her willingness to take on the role of advisor to the MTSU Model United Nations club, without her we would not have had the opportunity to participate in competitions at UC Berkeley, UF Gainesville, Emory University in Atlanta, and the University of Toronto in Canada. She was a foodie on trips, always organizing a group dinner at an out of the way taco joint in the arts district of LA or a Japanese restaurant in Atlanta.

She was so dedicated to our club she facilitated our own MTSU Model UN Security Council committee and so dedicated to our MUN experience she prescheduled tweets in our security committee to deliver news and updates on the scenario, such a clever trick we were not expecting it.

I remember on the trip to Toronto I had a huge interview for an internship suddenly scheduled the following week in Baltimore, Maryland. Vanessa helped me prepare for my interview, and also works to help me figure out possible options of possibly getting an alternative flight on the way back to attend the interview in person. I ended up skyping in and offered the internship. When I received the news of the offer, one of the first persons I told was Vanessa, she was so excited for me. I know her confidence in me helped me feel prepared for the interview that ultimately led me on my current career path.

I talk of Vanessa constantly with my work colleagues always speaking fondly of her. We were so appreciative of her dedication that when we made club T-Shirts we put a quote of hers on the back of T-Shirt.

I cared for Vanessa dearly and she will be missed by everyone who knew her. My condolences go out to her husband and family.

“ I took several classes that were taught by Dr. Lefler as a student at Middle Tennessee State University. In fact, after taking International Relations with her I sought out other classes that she taught. She was a wonderful teacher. One of the best professors I had at MTSU and I know most of her students felt the same way. She was not only intelligent and skilled at explaining difficult concepts, but she was a great listener and treated each student with incredible kindness. Some of my best memories at MTSU involved her classes. I send my deepest condolences to her family during this difficult time.

“ Vanessa was my first mentor when I got back from my military service. I was going through a lot back then and without her I truly dont know if I would have made it through my Bachelors degree. Her constant willingness to discuss what ever was on my mind from things going on in my personal life to whatever paper I was writing. The soft way she spoke and focused on what you were saying were a never ending source of comfort. I am deeply sorry for you loss and hope you can find the same kind of comfort in your time of need.

“ I have a lot of fond memories of Vanessa, from the middle school seriousness of missing her birthday party dance due to the one and only time I was grounded to a running joke in high school that I was with child and she was the mother (It was a weird joke 😊). I'm happy I grew up with her and shared so many activities together such as band, swing choir, and running hurdles in track. She even drew our 8th-grade yearbook cover that I have on my shelf.

Whenever I look back on my Auburn activities, she was always there as a part of it with me. Even though we grew apart after high school, I still count her as one of my good friends from school. I'm very sorry she passed away and my condolences go to her husband and family. I hope you find peace knowing her suffering has ended and that she still lives warmly in our memories.

“Vanessa was a truly incredible person. She was impressively intelligent, thoughtful, driven, charismatic, poised, humorous, professional, and confident. She was my boss but she always felt more like a mentor. She opened doors for me to start and grow my career at TDH and supported and encouraged me when I grew my family this past year. There are so many things I’ve learned from her that I will carry with me in my life and my career. She was an effective leader. She was a careful and wise decision maker. I’ll miss bouncing all of my ideas off of her and solving data problems together. I’ll never forget when she gave me the opportunity to accompany her to a work conference in Denver and she walked several blocks with me to attend a Rockies game I wanted to go to even though baseball wasn’t her most loved sport to watch. That’s just the person she was. It always amazed me how she shifted from a career as a professor of international politics to one in public health and statistics and excelled. She was amazing at what she did. I truly looked up to her and feel so grateful for all the opportunities and encouragement she gave me. I just know she is already organizing and analyzing the data in heaven.

To Vanessa’s family, thank you for sharing her with Tennessee so I had the opportunity to know her. I will carry her and her impact on me in my heart forever. All my love, prayers, and sympathy to Josh and her family and friends.

“ My heartfelt condolences to Josh and the rest of the family. The loss of such a wonderful person, so full of joy and a bright future, is painful to imagine.

Vanessa brightened the Department of Political Science and International Relations at MTSU from 2012-2018. She was a superb colleague, well loved by everyone. Perhaps more than her strong academic work and excellent teaching, she ushered in a positive, respectful and optimistic tone. She was particularly active in helping promote social events among students and colleagues, helping to contribute to a sense of community. My special memories center around the departmental bike rides, the picnics, and our nights out to see the Predators. Indeed, we shared a love for the Preds, so in addition to MTSU, Smashville has also suffered a huge loss.

Vanessa was an inspiration and will continue to be so for those of us whose lives she touched. Seeing and remembering her smile evokes fond memories.

“Vanessa was the most brilliant, kind Aunt our children could ever ask for. She will be dearly missed but her memory and love will be felt for generations.

She gave LJ a love of board games and museums- I'll never forget how she took so much time to explain details about battles and architecture at the museum in Murphysboro answering hundreds of questions- or how much fun he had learning to play Castle Panic from Aunt Ness.

For Fionna they had many fun adventures doing crafts and cooking, and Aunt Ness taught her women could be fierce, fun, crafty and have the last word. I'll cherish the time they made soap together and she taught Fionna how to use a piping bag.

As a sister I will deeply miss our times together on holidays, cooking and talking politics, gender roles, international theory and begging Candy to get a meat thermometer. I always looked forward to those times, and holidays will never be the same.

Josh we love you and know you are in our thoughts and hearts during this transition to your next chapter.

“ I remember when Vanessa first came to to work with Vital Statistics. She was really shy but eventually opened up inserting ideas and thoughts making the best connection between VS and Vital Records like never before. “ An angel got her wings today, much quicker than anyone had hoped. When I first learned she was diagnosed with breast cancer I wasn't worried because Vanessa was a fighter and there was no way cancer could defeat her. But now, her difficult, hard fought battle is over. She was my cousin but she's always felt like the big sister I didn't have growing up. She grew up with two brothers that wrestled, so she had to be tough as nails. She was fierce, intelligent and driven, which makes for quite a strong woman. As a kid, I watched her succeed in and out of the classroom. I admired her and she inspired me to do hard things and pursue my own dreams. I'm sad that she is gone, but her memory will live on. I hope that I can raise my daughter to be a strong, fierce and independent woman that Vanessa would be proud of. RIP Vanessa, we love you and you will be so missed!
